Leadership Message

At Tntra, we believe innovation, collaboration, mentoring and a strong organizational culture are built through meaningful interactions between people.

While technology enables us to work from anywhere, we firmly believe that working together in the office creates stronger teams, faster learning, better collaboration and superior customer outcomes.

Accordingly, Tntra follows an Office-First workplace philosophy for employees assigned to the Vadodara office.

Work From Home is not an employee benefit, entitlement or alternate working arrangement. It is an exception granted only in genuine situations after considering employee wellbeing, customer commitments, business continuity and team collaboration.

This flexibility is built on trust, and trust is sustained through accountability.

1. Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to establish a clear, transparent and consistent framework governing Work From Home (WFH) arrangements.

The objectives of this policy are to:

- Maintain uninterrupted business operations.
- Ensure fairness and consistency.
- Protect customer commitments.
- Promote accountability.
- Preserve Tntra's collaborative culture.
- Enable flexibility only in genuine and exceptional circumstances.

2. Scope

This policy applies to all Tntra India employees.

Vadodara Office Employees

Employees assigned to the Vadodara office are expected to work from the office as their primary workplace and are governed by this policy.

Remote Employees

Employees officially designated as Remote Employees or employees working from locations where Tntra does not operate an office shall continue working remotely as per their employment terms.

Their existing work arrangement remains unchanged unless specifically communicated otherwise by Management.

3. Office-First Philosophy

At Tntra we believe:

- Innovation happens faster through collaboration.
- Learning happens better through observation and interaction.
- Strong teams are built by working together.
- Culture grows through everyday conversations.

Therefore,

Office attendance is the default mode of working for Vadodara office employees.

Work From Home is intended only for genuine, unavoidable and exceptional circumstances.

4. Guiding Principles

Every Work From Home request shall be evaluated based on the following principles:

- Customer First
- Business Continuity
- Team Collaboration
- Employee Wellbeing
- Trust with Accountability
- Fairness and Consistency

5. Golden Rule

Work From Home approval changes only the employee's work location. It does not change the employee's responsibility to work.

Employees working from home are expected to demonstrate the same level of:

- Productivity
- Availability
- Accountability
- Professionalism
- Responsiveness

as if they were working from the office.

6. Eligibility

Work From Home may be considered only when an employee is genuinely unable to attend the office but is capable of performing assigned responsibilities effectively from home.

Approval shall always remain at Management's discretion.

Approval of one request shall not automatically qualify future requests.

7. Situations Where Work From Home May Be Considered

Examples include:

- Personal illness where the employee is medically fit to work but unable to travel.
- Immediate family medical emergency.
- Critical home emergency.
- Severe weather conditions or flooding.
- Government restrictions affecting travel.
- Other exceptional situations approved by the Reporting Manager.

Employees may be asked to submit supporting documents or evidence wherever applicable.

8. Situations Normally Not Approved

Work From Home is generally not intended for:

- Personal convenience.
- Avoiding traffic.
- Routine family responsibilities.
- Taking children to school.
- Domestic help being unavailable.
- Guests visiting home.

- Home maintenance.
- Personal errands.
- Hospital visits while simultaneously claiming to work.
- Travelling while marking Work From Home.
- Internet or power issues where alternate arrangements can reasonably be made.

Management reserves the sole right to determine whether a request qualifies as exceptional.

9. Work From Home Request & Approval Process

Planned Requests

Employees should normally submit Work From Home requests at least one week in advance.

Emergency Requests

Where advance planning is not possible, requests should be submitted as early as reasonably possible, preferably at least one day in advance.

HR Portal Requirement

All Work From Home requests must be raised through the HR Portal under the Leave Application section.

Although the request is submitted through the Leave Application module, Work From Home is NOT considered Leave.

The Leave Application module is used only for workflow, approval and attendance management.

Approval Authority

Only the employee's Reporting Manager is authorized to approve or reject a Work From Home request.

Approval shall be based on:

- Business requirements.
- Nature of work.
- Customer commitments.
- Team availability.
- Productivity expectations.
- Supporting evidence, wherever required.

10. Employee Responsibilities

Employees working from home are expected to:

- Work during normal office working hours.
- Remain available on all possible and official channels like Microsoft Teams, email and phone etc..
- Attend all scheduled meetings.
- Maintain the same level of productivity expected while working from the office.
- Complete assigned deliverables within agreed timelines.
- Ensure confidentiality of company information.
- Maintain a professional work environment.
- Arrange uninterrupted internet connectivity.

Employees working on technology projects must continue updating project management tools (such as JIRA), wherever applicable.

11. Manager Responsibilities

Reporting Managers are responsible for ensuring that Work From Home is used responsibly.

Managers shall:

- Review every request objectively.
- Verify the genuineness of the request wherever necessary.
- Consider customer commitments before approval.
- Evaluate business impact.
- Define expected deliverables.
- Monitor employee availability.
- Review submitted Work From Home Timesheets.
- Approve or reject submitted Timesheets.
- Escalate misuse to HR wherever necessary.

Approval of Work From Home represents managerial accountability.

12. Work From Home Timesheet Requirements

Every employee who has been approved to Work From Home under this policy is required to submit a Work From Home Timesheet through the HR Portal.

The Timesheet shall:

- Reflect the actual work completed during the day.
- Demonstrate approximately eight productive working hours.
- Be submitted within the prescribed timeline.

The Reporting Manager is responsible for reviewing and approving or rejecting the submitted Timesheet.

Where project tracking tools such as JIRA are applicable, employees shall continue updating them as part of their normal project responsibilities.

Submission of JIRA or any other project management updates does not replace the requirement of submitting the Work From Home Timesheet through the HR Portal.

13. Attendance & Payroll

Approval of a Work From Home request alone does not validate attendance for the day. Attendance shall be considered complete only when:

- The Work From Home request has been approved through the HR Portal.
- The employee has submitted the required Work From Home Timesheet through the HR Portal.
- The Reporting Manager has approved the submitted Timesheet.

Failure to comply with the above requirements may result in the day being treated as unauthorized absence, Leave Without Pay (where applicable), or any other action deemed appropriate by Management.

Salary processing may be delayed where mandatory approvals remain pending.

14. Monitoring & Compliance

To ensure responsible utilization of Work From Home, Tntra reserves the right to periodically review:

- Attendance records.
- Login patterns.
- Productivity reports.
- Project deliverables.
- Approved Work From Home requests.
- Submitted Timesheets.
- Other work records relevant to performance and accountability.

15. Misuse of Work From Home

Examples of misuse include, but are not limited to:

- Repeated unapproved Work From Home.
- False declarations.
- Misrepresentation of circumstances.
- Failure to submit mandatory Timesheets.
- Remaining unavailable during working hours.

- Working from another location while claiming Work From Home.
- Consistently low productivity.
- Failure to perform assigned responsibilities.

16. Non-Compliance

Violation of this policy may result in one or more of the following actions:

- Counselling.
- Withdrawal of Work From Home privileges.
- Leave Without Pay (where applicable).
- Performance counselling.
- Formal disciplinary action.
- Any other action deemed appropriate by Management.

17. Common Workplace Scenarios

Scenario	Typical Outcome
Heavy rain or local flooding	May be approved based on severity and Reporting Manager's discretion.
Personal illness but medically fit to work	May be approved with supporting information.
Immediate family medical emergency	May be approved depending on circumstances and expected availability for work.
Taking a family member to the hospital	Normally treated as Leave unless productive work can realistically be performed.
Home maintenance or repairs	Normally not approved.
Visitors at home	Normally not approved.
Power failure	Employee is expected to make alternate arrangements wherever reasonably possible.
Internet disruption	Employee should arrange an alternate internet connection wherever reasonably possible.
Working from another city	Requires prior approval from the Reporting Manager.
Working while travelling	Not permitted unless specifically approved.
Personal errands	Normally not approved.
Avoiding traffic	Not considered a valid reason.
Childcare or school drop/pick-up	Normally not approved.
Domestic help unavailable	Normally not approved.
Emergency at home	May be approved after evaluation by the Reporting Manager.
Need to work from home for multiple consecutive days	Subject to business requirements, supporting evidence and Reporting Manager approval. Blanket approvals should not be assumed.

18. Policy Review

This policy shall be reviewed annually or earlier if required based on business needs, legal requirements or organizational changes.
